PREMIER SAYS B.C. INVITES BRITISH SETTLERS

Greater Victoria Is Growing Fast Says Telephone Company

Over 15,500 Telephones in Use in Urban Centre, With Capacity Limit of Present System Within Sight; Change Over to Automatic Telephones an Alternative Plan Now Being Investigated

Indicating the rapid strides made by Greater Victoria in filling its urban population centres, over 15,500 telephones are now installed and in use, according to local officials of the B.C. Telephone Company. This total is exclusive of telephones in outlying municipalities on separate exchanges, and gives Victoria the lead in all Canadian cities for the number of its telephones per capita. On the established and known basis of use, this indicates a population of 65,000 people in the area so served.

So fast has the district served by the B.C. Telephone Company in Greater Victoria grown that the present equipment and exchange board is nearing its capacity, and will have to be extended within two or three years. Officials of the company, the active operations of which are controlled from headquarters in Vancouver, are fully alive to the remarkable growth shown here, and have the question of future extensions under advisement.

Investigation is being made into the whole situation in British Columbia, following the recent acquisition of the company by the Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company and its associated firms, comprising British and American investors. Theodore Gary & Company, International Automatic Telephone Company, Siemens Brothers and many well-known firms are associated in the companies grouped under the Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Engineers of the company for some time have been investigating means of extending the services in British Columbia, as times and growth require. One possible alternative to the extension of the present system in Victoria would be the installation of automatic telephones, on the plan of the Strowger machines now coming into fairly general use throughout the continent. No decision on this point has been taken, however, though the whole question is being studied by the engineers of the company here and at Vancouver.

When the limit of service has been reached under the present system, it should be decided to install the automatic telephones here and at Vancouver, the change over would be gradual, and would take a considerable time to effect. It would not lead to any sudden disruption of the service or its personnel. The present system in Victoria is capable of handling all needs for the next few years, it was explained by officials of the company.

THOUSANDS GET B.C. PENSIONS

Nearly Half-million Dollars Distributed in First Half of Year

Figures for the first six months of this year show that 3,150 persons in British Columbia have availed themselves of the opportunity to secure old age pensions, with the number growing since the last figures were compiled.

A total of $441,223.87 has been paid to pensioners, of which one-half has been financed by the Federal Government and one-half by the Provincial Government. According to statistics just compiled by the Department of Labor, British Columbia's pensioners comprise twenty-five per cent of the population of the Province over twenty years of age.

The average monthly pension is $17.47. There are 1,871 male pensioners and 1,279 female pensioners. The amount of property owned by these pensioners is valued at $1,520,782. Under the Pension Act, the Provincial Government may call for this property to be transferred to it, but this practice has not been followed here.

Of the pensioners in British Columbia 271 were previous residents of Ontario, 275 of Alberta, 179 of Manitoba, 157 of Saskatchewan, 75 of Nova Scotia, 87 of Quebec, 18 of the Yukon and 10 of Prince Edward Island.

PLANE STARTS NEW SERVICE ON PRAIRIES

Premier of Manitoba Passenger on First Winnipeg-Calgary Air Voyage

People of Plains Welcome Inauguration of Regular Fast Service

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—A super de Havilland biplane speeding west today is inaugurating the regular passenger and express service of the Western Canada Airways Ltd. between Winnipeg and other prairie centres.

With Premier Bracken of Manitoba as a passenger and W. L. Brintnell, operating manager of the company, at the pilot's controls, the big machine took off from the St. Charles aerodrome here at 9:25 o'clock this morning, the first leg of its 800-mile journey.

Brintnell planned to reach Regina at noon and Calgary by 5 or 6 p.m. If the plane has no breakdowns or delays, the Premier may make the entire round trip.

While awaiting first class freight this morning, Pilot Brintnell turned up the plane and way all ready to start when H. C. Knox, agent of the express company, reached the flying field with the parcels, which had arrived at 9 o'clock by C.P.R. from Toronto.

Despite the early departure there were at least seventy-five persons on hand to wish the party good luck. Besides Premier Bracken and Mr. Brintnell, H. W. McMaster, master mechanic, accompanied the plane.

Oslo, Norway, Sept. 13.—What is believed to be additional wreckage from the plane in which Capt. Roald Amundsen and five companions were lost at the start of the Arctic Expedition was found this morning in the southern part of the Strait of Tromsø.

It seems to be a part of a wing of the French Latham flying boat which was piloted by Rene Guilbaud and carried, besides Capt. Amundsen, Lieut. Leif Dietrichsen and three French naval airmen.

The relic, which will be examined today by French naval experts from the cruiser Strasbourg, was found in the vicinity where on September 1 fishermen picked up one of the pontoons of the plane. Discovery of that pontoon convinced both Norwegian and French authorities that the Amundsen expedition had perished. Identification of an additional relic of the machine would be taken here as confirming that belief.

Prince Rupert, Sept. 13.—The Godfrey plane hopped off here in its seaplane for Prince George shortly after noon on September 13. It was reported passing over Terrace.

James Paterson, First Purchasing Agent For B.C. Government, Passes

James Paterson, purchasing agent for the British Columbia Government since 1918, who established the centralized purchasing system now in force, passed away this morning at his home, 530 Lathlinere Avenue.

Mr. Paterson had not been in the best of health for some time, his death came as a shock to relatives and friends. As late as Tuesday he had been at his desk at the Parliament Buildings.

Mr. Paterson was seventy years of age, being born in Toronto in 1858. He came to British Columbia about forty years ago and most of his time in the West had been spent in Victoria, where he was widely respected among an extensive circle of friends. He had a successful business career in this city before accepting his appointment with the Government and was for many years associated with his brother in the wholesale fruit firm of Paterson Brothers. He had also been engaged in the shoe business.

When Mr. Paterson was named purchasing agent for the B.C. Government there was no system of method of purchasing supplies. He was given the task of organizing a central system and showed his executive ability by forming a department which proved far more satisfactory than the former method. Other provinces in Canada showed interest in the system which he established and it has since been adopted by other provincial governments.

His efficiency in this direction led him to be made purchasing agent for the Liquor Control Board when the Government took over the sale of liquor, placing further heavy responsibilities on him.

Hurricane is Expected to Strike Island of Haiti, to the West

New York, Sept. 13.—A severe hurricane struck Porto Rico early today and was expected to reach the island of Haiti before tonight, according to messages to the French Telegraph Cable Company's offices here.

All business was suspended in Porto Rico, the cable managers at San Juan reported. All land wires were down. No reports were received as to loss of life and property damage.

One message from San Juan said an east-northeast wind of ninety miles an hour was blowing, with the barometer at 29.50.

TIDE WATER MINE ON WEST COAST NOW OPERATING

Copper Property and Plant Is Acquired By Ladysmith Smelters

Inaugurating a copper mining development on Vancouver Island second only to that of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Coast Copper, the Ladysmith Tidewater Smelters last night shipped a crew of men, supplies and machinery to Sidney Inlet on the West Coast.

At the head office of the Ladysmith Smelters, it was explained by A. J. Coull, engineer in charge, that the British Metals Corporation, through the Tidewater mine and plant, which had been closed down at Sidney Inlet since the drop in copper prices four years ago, and the subsequent retirement of the department which proved far more satisfactory than the former method.

Other provinces in Canada showed interest in the system which he established and it has since been adopted by other provincial governments.

His efficiency in this direction led him to be made purchasing agent for the Liquor Control Board when the Government took over the sale of liquor, placing further heavy responsibilities on him.

SIX CHILDREN FIRE VICTIMS

Lose Lives When Home in Ontario Burned; Another Girl is Near Death

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 13.—Six children of Mr. and Mrs. T. Peyer lost their lives and a third girl, Mary Peyer, twenty, a niece of the family, may die as the result of a fire which early this morning destroyed the Peyer home at Mileage 279 on the Algoma Central railway, about twenty miles south of Sault Ste. Marie.

The parents, together with a baby in arms and a thirteen-year-old girl, escaped from the flames. Bodies of two children, apparently smothered by smoke, have been recovered, but the remains of the other four still are in the ruins.

Destruction of the house followed the use of coal oil in the kitchen stove by the hired girl to revive a smouldering fire.

The girl was terribly burned.

CO-OPERATION ADVOCATED BY CHURCH HEAD

Rev. Dr. Chown Suggests New United Presbyterian Church Relations

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—Hope that when the bitterness of controversy had subsided it would be possible to approach the continuing Presbyterian Church with suggestions of co-operation and thus avoid unnecessary expenditure of the Lord's money was expressed by Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, for a number of years General Superintendent of the Methodist Church of Canada, in an address before the General Council of the United Church of Canada, in session here today.

Dr. Chown read a carefully prepared paper reviewing the church union movement, which, he declared, had been successful beyond all expectations. There were thousands of members of non-concurring churches who were perfectly sincere, and it was to be hoped co-operation could be arranged.

END OF SESSIONS In all probability, the sessions of the General Council will end to-morrow night. The secretary of the council today outlined the matters still to be discussed and expressed hope the business could be completed by that time. The treasury was authorized to issue cheques in payment of expenses up to Friday night only.

SUGGESTION REJECTED That the new church is not friendly to the development of over-exact ritual was indicated when a suggestion that the committee on church worship and ritual be instructed to prepare a form for installation and induction of the Moderator was unanimously rejected.

Union of Municipalities Hears Recommendation For Future Construction

Trail, B.C., Sept. 13.—Recommendations from the Corporation of B.C. Land Surveyors for wider and regularly placed main highways and wider and fewer inter-sections of main highways were before the Union of British Columbia Municipalities here this forenoon.

They were referred to the incoming executive with instructions to watch events at Victoria when suggestions come before the Legislature.

This is the second day of the annual two-day convention of the Union.

Victoria recommended the adoption of a new form of municipal ballot whereby the ballots for mayor, aldermen, school trustees, police commissioners and by-laws would be clipped together and cast in one booth. It would save money for the municipality and time for the voters and insure a more representative vote, urged Alderman W. Marchant.

The Union decided to ask for permissive legislation allowing councils to adopt the new ballot if they should see fit.

A suggestion from New Westminster for increased Government grants to teachers, such grants having remained stationary while salaries have advanced fifty per cent in the last ten years and have doubled since the municipalities took over the schools, was referred to the executive, to be embraced in the brief on school figures to be presented to the Government.

STORE HOURS Revised store regulations were recommended, which will make it possible for a municipality having advanced time, such as Fernie, successfully to prosecute those keeping stores open after the hour set in a local by-law. The permissive hour is advanced to 4:30 from 5.

IMPORTANT GROUP TO BE WELCOMED HERE ON MONDAY

Representing the American Association of Railway Traffic Agents, 1,200 delegates to the Seattle convention under way today will visit Victoria on Monday, en route to their homes in the Eastern States and Canada. The body includes agents from all points of the country who advise millions of tourists on holiday tours annually. The delegation will be welcomed by Mayor J. C. Pendray and every effort is being made to entertain the visitors. The party will arrive by special boat from Seattle, the President Pierce being placed at their disposal by the American Mail Line. She will dock at Ogden Point at 12:30 p.m. Some 600 of the party will return to Seattle on the President Pierce at 5:30 p.m., while the remainder will go by special boat to Vancouver at the same hour, the C.P.R. having placed the Princess Kathleen at their disposal for the special run. A general appeal to citizens to extend themselves in entertaining the delegates while here was made by the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce today.

NO MYSTERY "All I have been doing," he went on, "is trying to discover how the organization of the molecules in the living cells work. There is not the slightest 'mystery' about this, and nothing I have done means we are shortly to be able to plumb the secret of life. It has been said, but not by Dr. Donnan, that I am able to make a living cell. That is utter nonsense."

The discussion ended with the decision to prepare a memorial for consideration by the Indian Department at Ottawa, "giving reasons why, as the Grand Indian Council of Ontario, we wish the franchise for women."

Premier Tolmie Meets Empire Parliamentary Association Delegates From Britain in Vancouver and Informs Them British Columbia Government Prepared to Enter Into Negotiations Which Promise Successful Settlement Era

Vancouver, Sept. 13 (Canadian Press).—Premier S. F. Tolmie informed United Kingdom delegates of the Empire Parliamentary Association here today the British Columbia Government would be prepared at any time to enter into negotiations in the most sympathetic manner possible for placing British born settlers on British Columbia lands.

Dr. Tolmie was opening a conference between the visiting parliamentary delegates and the Vancouver Board of Trade. He had figures showing the growing proportion of foreign-born as compared with British-born immigration. "Let us get down to business," said Premier Tolmie. "We are anxious to keep this a British country. We want British Columbia to be British Columbia and nothing else."

British Columbia was prepared to supply the land, administration, supervision, schools, roads and its investment in railways.

Premier Tolmie advocated the block system of settlement. Good land, he urged, should be selected. He thought a preliminary training could be given settlers in clearing settlement lands. They might be paid a reasonable daily wage and at the same time the men would get actual training and fit themselves for farm work.

British Columbia wanted British settlers because they were "our own kind and kin" and because the Old Land had produced the best agriculturists in the world.

The Premier made light of present "ice cream" hardships as compared with the hardships of pioneering days. There would always be some among the immigrants who would not do so well as others.

"If the twelve Apostles had come to British Columbia," Premier Tolmie said, "two or three of them would have wanted to go fishing."

Dugald Donaghy, K.C., former member of Parliament, protested against reports that British immigration was being discouraged. Canada wanted British settlers. He urged, too, that too rosy a picture of conditions in Canada should not be painted in Great Britain.

W. L. Mackin of Chilliwack urged investment of British capital in British Columbia. British artisans would follow, develop industries and provide a market for the products of the farms.

Tom Johnston, a Scottish Labor member of the British Commons, thought a policy which wanted picked men, capital and markets, without

Prof. A. V. Hill Tells British Reporters He Has Not Plumbed Secret of Life

London, Sept. 13.—The London Mail says Professor A. V. Hill was amazed at the stir throughout the country created by the paper read in Glasgow, as a result of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, by Professor F. G. Donnan, in which he said Dr. Hill was on the verge of discovery of the difference between cellular life and death.

The professor, whose work had been termed of "astounding importance," was found by reporters at a rural retreat in Devonshire. "Professor Donnan is an old friend of mine," he said. "I lent him a paper containing the results of some of my recent researches, into which he read far more than I myself would read."

He added with a chuckle, "But Donnan is an Irishman and a poet."

MUNICIPALITIES URGED TO HAVE DEFENCE FUND

Delegates at B.C. Meeting at Trail Consider Saanich Reeve's Proposal

Trail, B.C., Sept. 13.—As a sequel to the resolution passed last night in favor of the creation of a British Columbia public utilities commission, Reeve Crouch of Saanich asked the Union of B.C. Municipalities at its session here this forenoon to take steps to raise a legal fund of $10,000 to enable the executive to fight issues that might arise in the Legislature or to contest rate disputes with utility corporations.

These suggestions came unexpectedly, he urged and the executive must be ready to fight for the public whenever the occasion might arise. He believed the B.C. Electric Railway Company's increase in capitalizations was precipitating a fight that would have to be met sooner than many expected. He suggested a fifty per cent. increase in the dues.

PROPOSAL SUPPORTED Secretary A. Wells Grey, supporting the proposal, said the officers of the Union often were compelled through lack of funds to go to Victoria at their own expense.

It was decided to ask the delegates to ascertain the views of their respective councils on the proposal.

Reeve Crouch said the cost was well worth while to the municipalities in order to fight their battles with the big corporations collectively.

Man Kills Woman And Ends Own Life

New Orleans, La., Sept. 14.—Two persons were killed, one was reported dying and another was seriously wounded as the result of an attempt here by James Guerra, 35-year-old night watchman, to slay his wife's family in a fit of insane jealousy.

Guerra last night found his estranged wife of three months, 17-year-old Nora Muller Guerra, living with her family in the old French quarter of the city, in the hope of evading him. Falling at reconciliation, he shot and seriously wounded his wife, killed her mother, Mrs. Louis Muller, 68, and wounded John Muller, 22, her brother. He then ended his own life with a bullet.

B.C. BOARD FOR UTILITIES IS SCHEME URGED

Union of Municipalities Suggests Legislature Create Provincial Commission

Trail, B.C., Sept. 13.—A provincial public utilities commission is proposed by the Union of B.C. Municipalities. At last night's session of its annual meeting here, the Union passed the following resolution unanimously: "That the Provincial Government be requested to enact legislation making provision for a public utilities commission, with effective powers to control the rates, capitalization and contracts of all public utility companies and their subsidiaries, and based upon sound principles of law and economics, which principles should be set out in such legislation."

Passage of the resolution was preceded by addresses by J. B. Clearhugh of Victoria and Mayor T. A. Love of Grand Forks, the former discussing the recapitalization of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, and the latter the dispute between the Grand Forks and the West Kootenay Power and Light Co. as to power rates.

SCHOOL QUESTION
Another resolution passed by the Union reads:

"Resolved that this union reaffirm its request to the Government to take over the operation of the schools of the Province, or to bring into force the recommendations of the Putnam and Weir report; and that the executive of the union be instructed, owing to the urgency of the situation, to press for such legislation."

Relief of municipalities from charges for care of prisoners sent up from their jurisdictions, except where the offenders have a six months' residence qualification, is one of the forms of relief from financial burdens asked of the Provincial Government in a resolution. Some municipalities, it was stated, were hard hit by the "dumping" of offenders.

Other forms of relief asked include either free or nominal motor licenses for municipal road-making equipment, and a refund of the tax collected on gasoline used in their road work.

TAXATION CHANGES
A change in favor of the taxpayers in arrears is asked, a reduction of the penalty limit from fifteen per cent to twelve, and of the ten per cent penalty to seven per cent being urged.

Among other tax requests are changes in the Municipal Act to facilitate taxing labor commission lands, emanating from North Vancouver, and to enable a corporation to assume, if desired, the burden of reducing the special assessment on an odd-shaped parcel, under the local improvement plan, instead of distributing the cost among the other lots concerned.

HIGHWAY PLANS
A division in the resolutions committee on a Spallumcheen and Peachland proposal that the total cost of primary highways in municipalities of less than 3,000 population should be assumed by the Government resulted in the question being thrown open for general discussion. A Burnaby suggestion was finally accepted, to request the Government to investigate the whole question of the construction and maintenance of highways with a view to a fair distribution of the costs as between the Government and the municipalities.

VISITING M.P.'S ARE TOLD PROVINCE HAS MUCH LAND FOR WORKERS FROM BRITAIN

some countervailing advantage offered to the people of Great Britain, would require a lot of explaining in Great Britain.

Mr. Johnston asked what would be the possibilities of mass settlement in the Peace River district. C. J. H. Hudson, Labor member of the British Commons for Huddersfield, Yorkshire, said Great Britain wanted to sell British goods in order to buy Canadian goods.

FIGURES COMPARED

Herbert G. Williams, Parliamentary Secretary to the British Board of Trade, said he had been unable to find any answer to the question why Canada was now unable to absorb more than forty per cent of the British immigration it had absorbed before the World War. The answer might be that Canada wanted too many of the skilled agriculturist class. The British Isles now had more people engaged in agriculture than Canada and needed them all.

Mr. Williams pointed out that Great Britain, through the Empire Marketing Board, was building up propaganda for Empire goods in Great Britain. He hoped a similar propaganda for Empire goods would be built up in the Canadian markets.

Hon. W. H. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of Manitoba, Duncan Cameron, president of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture of Manitoba and the three sons of the Premier and two sons of the Attorney-General.

LANDING PLANS

For the trip to-day arrangements were made for landings at the flying club fields at Regina and Calgary. The only two stopping points of the plane.

According to plans of the company two round trips will be made from Winnipeg to Calgary each week and as the demand for service increases additional planes will be placed on the route.

abilities upon him. In the dual position he had charge of expenditures that amounted to over $8,000,000 a year.

WAS WIDELY KNOWN
The friends of Mr. Paterson at the Parliament Buildings and in Victoria generally will be shocked to hear of his sudden death. He was well-known both among the politicians and the younger generation of British Columbia. For years he had been a member of the Pacific Club and one time held the office of president. He joined the masonic fraternity when he was in Winnipeg, and in Victoria was a member of the Rotary Club. For many years he had been a member of St. Andrew's Church, and during his long connection with it had held important offices.

He leaves a widow and one son, Gillian, who is on the staff of the Liquor Control Board in charge of customs work. A standing tribute was paid to the memory of the late James Paterson, one of the veterans of the Victoria Rotary Club this afternoon. President Herbert Anscomb testily announced the sudden passing of Rotarian Paterson, and John R. Clark moved the club send a letter of condolence to the family.

The remains are reposing at McCall Bros' Funeral Home, pending burial arrangements, which will be announced later.

WIDER ROADS URGED AS B.C. GROWTH AID

Fernie's proposal for municipal councils to be given power of approval before division of lots can be registered was endorsed. Divisions sometimes impose additional cost or inconvenience on the municipalities in regard to sewer and water services.

A proposal for a ninety-day residence of an indigent or insane person before liability to the municipality, emanating from Fernie, was made to the Government last year and last year's resolution was reaffirmed.

TRUCK LICENSES
A proposal from Ladysmith for enabling a municipality to collect license fees from truck owners for collecting, in addition to delivering, which is possible at present, gave rise to an animated debate by delegates from the municipalities of Grand Forks, where many Orientals have trucks for collecting poultry, rabbits and produce but do not pay taxes. On the understanding that it would not mean an additional fee to the now licensed to deliver, the convention endorsed the principle.

RAILWAY TAXES
The Union's solicitor was directed to take up with the Union of Canadian Municipalities the request to have the exemption of railway property from taxation modified in view of the increasing demand for services and the great burdens already on the municipalities.

At the request of the civic employees and firefighters' unions it was decided to ask the Government to enact legislation providing for conciliation boards in wage and similar disputes with municipalities.

The Industrial Disputes Investigation Act of Canada did not apply to municipalities it was pointed out.

OLD AGE PENSIONS
By a vote of about sixty to ten the convention rejected a proposal to press on the Federal Government a scheme for universal old age pensions for those arrived at sixty-five years.

The proposal as presented by Councilor Lambert of Burnaby was first for universal superannuation at sixty.

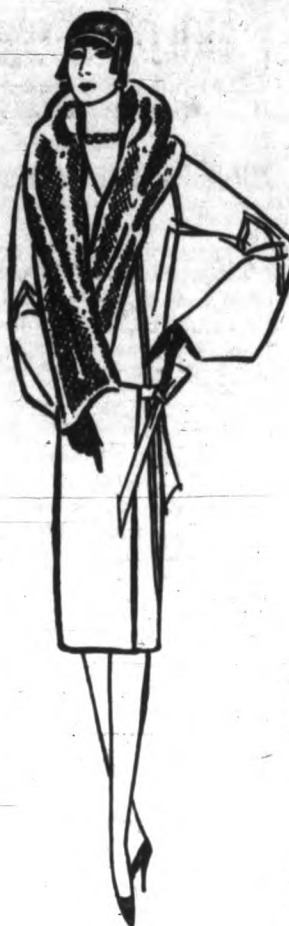

SPRINKLERS SAVE BUILDING
Vancouver, Sept. 13.—Fire which started on the second floor of the Hudson's Bay Company's warehouse at 327 Water Street here shortly before last midnight, but did slight damage, thanks to the sprinkling system and the work of the fire brigade. The outbreak is believed to have been caused by rats which gnawed their way into a parcel of matches in the warehouse.

A Superb Collection of

Better Grade Fur-trimmed Coats

For Women and Misses

Coats are in tune with the dresses under them this Fall, for they achieve a pleasing variation in silhouettes. Using the straight line silhouette as a background, a feminine theme is developed by a side flare at the closing, or two or three knife pleats similarly placed. On others, flat tiers—one or two of them—and a tunic line on the skirt of the coat lend novelty and interest.

These very handsome coats are luxuriously trimmed with handsome fur collars and in some cases cuffs of rich fur. We would emphasize the importance of early selection.

Six Reasons Why Mothers Prefer Hurlbuts for the Kiddies

Order from these Dealers

THESE six reasons have solved the children's shoe problem for thousands of Canadian families. Careful Mothers have learnt from experience the value and economy of buying Hurlbuts Cushion Sole Shoes for Children.

Reason No. 1. Beauty—

The beauty of Hurlbuts comes from the use of high grade leathers, Davis Calf, Marlatt's Patent and Anglo-Canadian Soles, plus the careful Hurlbut workmanship.

Reason No. 2. Comfort—

Hurlbut comfort is due to the extreme flexibility of Hurlbut Construction—the real lamb's wool cushion insole that takes the imprint of the foot without painful "breaking in"—no tacks or ridges to hurt the tender feet.

Reason No. 3. Durability—

Many customers say that they wear two or even three times as long as ordinary shoes. They are more durable because of the good materials used in Hurlbut Shoes.

Reason No. 4. Economy—

Even at slightly higher prices, Hurlbut Shoes are more economical because they will wear longer and in addition our "Re-built Service" further cuts the cost by rebuilding and enlarging worn or outgrown shoes at a moderate price.

Reason No. 5. Value—

Hurlbut Shoes are worth every cent asked for them in wear alone, besides the additional satisfaction of beauty and comfort. They cannot hurt the most tender feet.

Reason No. 6. For Health—

Hurlbuts leave room for every toe, allowing the child's feet to grow naturally and comfortably without cramping and crowding, thereby preventing bothersome foot troubles.

All Hurlbut Authorized Dealers across Canada have been selected because of their reputation for service and fair-dealing in the selling of Misses', Women's and Children's Shoes. They are competent to fit your child with Hurlbut Shoes.

DIVORCE FOLLOWS MONEY SQUABBLE

Mrs. G. F. Scollard Sues Husband, Who Replies From Victoria

Bellingham, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Sarah Smith Wilbur Scollard, millonairess of Bellingham, was granted an interlocutory divorce from George Francis Scollard in Superior Court here yesterday on grounds of cruelty and misrepresentation. Scollard did not appear to contest the action, but wrote a letter under a Victoria, B.C. postmark to the court saying that he had authorized no attorney to represent him. Mrs. Scollard was given title to all the community property and her maiden name of Sarah Smith was restored to her. The marital troubles of the couple attracted attention about a year ago, when they raced from South America and engaged in a court fight for possession of millions of dollars.

CLEVER TURNS FOR V.O.N. CABARET TEA SATURDAY

Royal Yacht Club Function to Assist Cause of Sick and Needy

Unusually attractive turns have been arranged for the tea and cabaret which is to be held at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Saturday afternoon in aid of the funds of the Victoria Order of Nurses. The affair will last from 3.30 until 6.30 o'clock, and Fitt's orchestra will supply the music for dancing.

Miss Nellie Thacker, the well-known dancer and teacher of interpretative toe and Russian dancing, will present a number of her cleverest pupils in beautifully-costumed dance numbers. Mrs. F. G. Aldous will sing in costume, the Misses Bucklin will give instrumental ensembles, and Miss Iona Robertson, the noted entertainer, will contribute an amusing monologue.

A SPLENDID CAUSE
Few causes in Victoria are more deserving than that of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Its four nurses are ready at all hours of the day and night to tend the sick in those cases where circumstances prevent the patient entering hospital, and many a bonny baby has made its entrance into this world under the kindly ministrations of the blue-uniformed and efficient nurses.

In addition to bedside nursing, they carry on a splendid work along educational and preventive lines, attending baby clinics, giving pre-natal and post-natal advice to mothers, conducting mothercraft classes and doing similar humanitarian work. Theirs is one of the highest forms of social service, and as the fees they charge, when any, are very low, they look to the generous public for assistance from time to time.

Those who attend Saturday's cabaret will have the dual satisfaction of combining pleasure with philanthropy.

CITY TEMPLE HAS NEW CHOIR HEAD

Mrs. Lucy Bosward Appointed as Director of Music

Lucy Bosward, Bachelor of Music, Manchester University and member of the Incorporated Society of Musicians, residing at 50 Government Street, has, in competition, been appointed director of music for the Victoria City Temple. Not only was the new director highly recommended by her predecessor, George Deaville, who has had charge of the choir since the resignation of Frederick Waddington, but the lady received the unanimous vote of the choir and board of management of the Victoria City Temple.

Mrs. Bosward has had extensive experience in musical work, being one of the few university graduates in music in the city, and her graduation took charge of the Barregrow (Isle of Man) Wesleyan choir, also taking charge later of the Redhill (Surrey) E. Choir and Weston (Manchester) Wesleyan Choir as well as the Peel Choral Society of seventy members.

In Canada she directed the Strathmore Union Choir and the Banff Union Choir in Alberta.

Though only having temporary charge of the choir since the Summer vacation Mrs. Bosward's work has won such high praise from her colleagues in the choir, and those who are in touch with musical affairs in the City Temple that her appointment has met with the highest satisfaction.

Mrs. Bosward's intention is to select and increase the choir to about seventy members in order to give the City Temple congregations the very best possible musical features in the services.

MARRIAGE, NOT DIVORCE, IS BIG CHURCH PROBLEM

Rev. Hugh Dobson Optimistic in Address Before United Church Council

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—Although matrimonial casualties in the next twenty-five years are likely to be much greater than in the recent past, there is in the present a challenge to a new family life and a promise of a better day, declared Rev. Hugh Dobson of Vancouver, addressing the General Council of the United Church of Canada here last night.

"Divorce," he said, was not the church's problem, but marriage. Changed economic conditions were changing the basis of matrimony and the ties binding husband and wife in future would be less economic than spiritual.

"I think God is bringing us to a better day," he said.

Although the divorce rate had increased greatly in Canada since 1913, Dr. Dobson declared the Dominion should be thankful that its increase was the lowest of any country on record.

"The increased divorce rate is largely due to the changed economic and industrial age, together with the augmented publications which have found wealth in the exploitation of sex," he declared.

Dr. Dobson assured his audience there was no cause for panic, but there was cause for very careful study by every preacher and member of the church.

"It will only be dealt with by the contacts of the preacher and teacher in complete fellowship with the church membership," he concluded.

Moosheart Women—Women of Moosheart Legion held their regular meeting Monday, September 10, in the Sons of England Hall, Senior Regent Robertson presiding. One new member was initiated. Legionaire Allan was reported sick. Legionaire Marshall will have charge of the rummage sale to be held early in October.

All Legionnaires are requested to attend the whist drive to be held at the Harmony Hall, Fort Street, Friday, September 14, at 8.30 p.m. Dainty refreshments were served by Past Regent White and her committee after the meeting.

Unity Centre.—Mrs. January of Cleveland, Ohio, will speak at the Unity Centre, 600 Campbell Building, this evening at 8 o'clock. The public are invited to hear the lecture. Mrs. January is a forceful and attractive speaker. She has been a pupil of Charles Fillmore and a member of Silent Unity for many years, and has just been attending the Unity Conference held in August at Unity Farm, Kansas City. Admission is free.

First of all, there should be toys and play equipment in the yard so that outdoor playing will be made interesting. If it is different than indoor playing so much the better. Keep the wagons and big blocks for outdoors. His sandpile and swing and teeter-board ought to lure him, plenty of and toys will make playing in the sand doubly fascinating.

Secondly, don't make that period of separation from the companionship of his mother too abrupt. Put his playthings near the back door and keep busy within sight and hearing. Go out frequently and talk to him. Call to him from the open door. Let him come in when he chooses and then lead him out again and stay with him a few moments. By imperceptible degrees the separations can be lengthened so that even the child has no consciousness of being alone. Mothers must learn that in teaching a child new habits they can't all be solidified in one day. You can't train a child to play alone outdoors if his early experiences are all unhappy ones, in which he finds the door shut against him and a cross mother urging him to stay outdoors.

Small companions bridge this gap of loneliness beautifully, but this is not always possible, and one must make the best of a situation which can't be altered. The disadvantages of having older children entertain the baby are obvious. They either cater to him too much, or take advantage of his weakness, both attitudes being contrary to the child's best interests.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to help any mother with her problems on diet and general care of infants and children. A self-addressed and stamped envelope enclosed with your letter will receive prompt attention.

Liberal Women's Forum—The Liberal Women's Forum will meet for their monthly meeting to-morrow at the headquarters, Broughton Street, at 3 o'clock. The affair will take the form of a social afternoon with refreshments and a programme. Plans for the Winter's work will also be discussed. Ladies of Ward Two, Sanich, will be the hostesses, with Mrs. M. Marshall, Mrs. J. M. Holdsworth and Mrs. Smart as conveners.

"If only I could speak plainly to my women customers"

Says the head saleslady in a smart shop

Embarrassing to tell them—but they should know about this new process of neutralizing odor in sanitary pads. It means greater mental comfort than ever before.

WHEN shopping, in business, socially—wherever women meet the world—there is an important question of personal hygiene that can mar their happiness. They do offend others at times. And this new treatment which deodorizes every Kotex pad positively prevents such offense.

The dreadful self-consciousness that prevents carefree assumption of daily tasks; the mental discomfort is ended! Kotex scientists have discovered and patented a safe way to banish all odor.

Conspicuous bulkiness gone, too. That other fear—the feeling of being conspicuous—is now eliminated. Corners of the Kotex pad are scientifically rounded and tapered so as to leave no evidence of sanitary protection when worn.

Yet every advantage remains

When you need greater or less protection, you can so easily add or remove layers of filler. It is, as always, absorbent to an amazing degree. The fact that you can so easily dispose of it makes a great difference to women. And a new treatment renders it softer, fluffier, than you thought possible.

Won't you try the Improved Kotex—buys this very day.

It is 60¢ for a box of twelve, at any drug, dry goods or departmental store.

Deodorizes... and 4 other important features:

- 1—Softer gauze ends chafing; pliable filler absorbs as no other substance can.
- 2—Corners are rounded and tapered; no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown.
- 3—Deodorizes—safely, thoroughly, by new and exclusive patented process.
- 4—Adjust it to your needs; filler may be made thicker, thicker, thinner as required; and
- 5—It is easily disposed of; no unpleasant laundry.

DEEP SEA, COASTWISE SHIPPING, AND RAILROAD NEWS

SHIP EXPLOSION KILLS FIVE MEN

Mysterious Accident Aboard Tanker Off East U.S. Coast Takes Heavy Toll

Southport, N.C., Sept. 13.—The charred hulk of the tanker Shreveport, anchored off Prying Pan Shoals, bore mute evidence to another grim tragedy of the sea.

Five seamen were dead as the result of an unexplained explosion on board the craft yesterday, which came with stunning and terrifying abruptness, tore away the deck and midships housing and incapacitated the vessel's radio facilities. Almost immediately the ship was enveloped in flames.

Four members of the crew were injured and with twenty-five other survivors they were brought into Southport by the Spanish steamer Aldeco, which was stopped by smoke pouring upward from the blazing vessel. The injured men were expected to recover. Tales of heroism were related by the survivors. R. F. Churchill of Cliftondale, Mass., the Shreveport's steward, and one of the injured, was imprisoned in his quarters by twisted steel. His cries attracted the attention of the other men as they were pushing away in the two lifeboats left seaworthy by the explosion. They returned and rescued the steward through a port hole.

The crew rowed for forty hours in its frail, overloaded boats before the arrival of the Aldeco. Meanwhile the boatwain, about whom no more was known than that he had been at Philadelphia, died, and Capt. S. A. Simmons, master of the ship, listed among the injured, remained for the most part in an unconscious condition. Regaining his senses, for a short period, he insisted the boats return to the wreck and search for anyone who might have been left behind. Members of the crew dissuaded him.

As to the cause of the explosion there was only conjecture. Capt. Simmons would advance no theory. The ship was sailing in ballast from Philadelphia, where its cargo had been discharged, to Gulfport.

In addition to the boatwain, the dead were: A. Bergman, chief mate; Harold Hopkins, second mate; D. M. Dagaro, pumpman; and Sven Person, machinist. The records of the ship were lost in the explosion and the addresses were unknown. The others injured were M. Goldberg and Philadelphia, a seaman, and Fred Linderberger, whose address could not be ascertained.

Hebb, local agent, from company headquarters in Seattle. For this port the Toyama has 100 tons of general cargo, including raw silk and a number of cases of silk goods. C.N.R. ALASKA SEASON CLOSES

On the final trip of the year to Skagway, the Canadian National steamer Prince George returned to Vancouver yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and will commence her winter schedule from Vancouver this evening at 8 o'clock. The Alaska tourist season which closed yesterday for the Canadian National steamships has been the most successful since the company has been operating steamers to points as far north as Skagway. This year thousands of tourists from all parts of the United States and Canada visited Alaska and the Yukon on the Prince George and her sister ship, the Prince Rupert. The capacity of both vessels, which have accommodation for 250 passengers, had been filled on every sailing since early June, when the Prince George made the first trip to Skagway. A popular route with more than fifty per cent of the tourists this year has been from Vancouver to Skagway and return as far as Prince Rupert, where they leave the ship and entrain for Jasper Park and the East.

The winter schedule of the C.N.R. calls for a sailing out of Vancouver every Monday and Thursday evenings. The Monday sailing will be taken by the Prince Rupert which will call at Prince Rupert and Stewart only, returning to Vancouver every Saturday at 2 o'clock. The Thursday sailing will be taken by the Prince George, calling at Prince Rupert, Anyox and Ketchikan. The George will return to Vancouver every Tuesday afternoon.

STRIKE TIES UP AUSTRALIAN PORTS

Many Ships Are Delayed While Dockers Fight Employers

Canberra, Australia, Sept. 13.—Premier Stanley Bruce stated in Parliament yesterday the Government would take drastic steps in an endeavor to settle the trouble which has arisen again at Australian seaports through the refusal of waterfront workers to accept an award of the Arbitration Court, which was to have gone into effect a few days ago. It is believed the Premier meant that the Crime Act would be invoked, thus providing a year's imprisonment for convicted agitators with deportation of those not born in Australia.

The whole Commonwealth is now in the throes of the dockers' strike, started three days ago, which threatens completely to paralyze shipping. Scores of vessels are lying idle in the different ports.

Employers are threatening to engage free labor, while wool growers of Adelaide, where thirty ships are idle, are preparing to load their own produce in the ships.

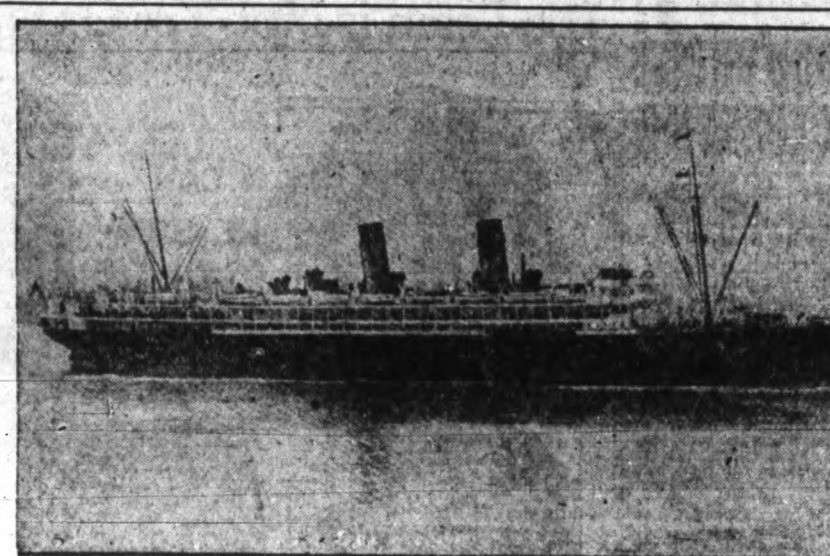

The trouble was precipitated when the dockers refused to work in the afternoons under the new award. It provides for two "pick-ups" by employers—morning and afternoon, and the afternoon "pick-up" was rejected by the workers.

The term "pick-up" is explained as referring to the custom of employers obtaining their labor for the day's work from the applicants present at its beginning. Thus two pick-ups might mean a worker chosen in the morning would get only half a day's work, but under the one pick-up plan he would be assured of a full day's pay.

From San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco the Pacific Steamship Company's coastwise liner Emma Alexander will dock at the Rithet piers at 9:30 o'clock this evening, according to a wireless dispatch received at the local offices of the company this morning from the ship. For this port the Emma has cargo and thirty-five passengers.

The H.F. has been handling the overflow from the other liners in the California service, the Emma Alexander and the Ruth Alexander, which sail from Seattle and Victoria once a week. Both these steamers have accommodations for 300 passengers while the Emma has 250. The Emma and the Ruth have not been able to take all the tourists wishing to sail on them this summer, and those anxious of making the boat trip to California have been taking passage on the H.F.

successful season that she has had since she was acquired by the Pacific Steamship Company for their California service. Sailing from Seattle every Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, she makes the trip to San Francisco in forty hours, arriving at the Golden Gate at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. She returns to Seattle from Los Angeles on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, making the round trip, a distance of nearly 2,500 miles, in less than six days.

INROADS OF OIL ON COAL OUTPUT CAUSE CONCERN

Britain's Military Services Dependent on Foreign Supplies

Development of the coal resources of the British Empire to meet the competition of fuel oil importations was discussed yesterday at the Parliament Buildings at a conference between the Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, officials of his department and members of the Empire Parliamentary Conference.

Utilization of the by-products of coal and experiments being made in this direction were outlined by G. H. Hall, member of the Imperial Parliament, who stated that reports on this subject had been secured at many points during the tour. The growing use of fuel oil in Great Britain was outlined. Mr. Hall stated that the naval service, the air service and the military service were absolutely dependent on imported fuel oil, seventy per cent of which came from the United States. In his opinion the Imperial Government was not awake to the importance of experiments in coal for power resources, and should be willing to spend millions in experiments to test the effectiveness of new processes.

BIG IMPORTATIONS
Chief Inspector of Mines Dickson stated that there was now being imported into British Columbia 50,000,000 gallons a year of fuel oil, this not including oil brought in for refining purposes or that used by deep sea ships. In addition, some 50,000 tons of United States coal were being annually imported into this Province.

Mr. McKenzie pointed out the research work being carried on by the Dominion Government, stating that British Columbia was keeping close watch on this work, and the department here was anxious to do whatever lay in its power to assist and to develop the coal mining industry of the Province.

Senator Thompson of Australia pointed out the fact that that country was spending some six million pounds a year for imported fuel oil, and he would welcome the Government there spending money to aid development of some process that would utilize coal in greater satisfaction when the visiting members of Parliament were: Senator W. G. Thompson of Australia; G. H. Hall, member of the Imperial Parliament; Hon. W. J. Jordan, member of the New Zealand Parliament; and G. H. Nicholas of the South African Party in the Assembly of the Union of South Africa. Officials of the Provincial Department of Mines present were: Robert Dunn, Deputy Minister of Mines; J. H. Gallows, Provincial mineralogist; James Dickson, chief inspector of mines.

Great Recovery Keeps Jones In Contest

Amateur U.S. Golf Titleholder Back On Top Of His Form

Leads John Beck of Great Britain by Six Up at End of First Nine Holes of Third Round To-day; Brilliant Play Gave Him Win at Nineteenth Hole Yesterday; Other Matches To-day Are Close

Braeburn Country Club, Newton, Mass., Sept. 13.—Smothering his rival with the best golf he has shown so far in defence of his title, Bobby Jones led John Beck of Great Britain 6 up to-day at the end of the first nine holes of their thirty-six-hole match in the third round of the National Amateur Championship. Jones, playing par golf, turned the match into an early rout by winning five of the first six holes.

It was the only one of the four third round contests to indicate a decisive trend. At the turn all the others were all square as Phil Perkins, British champion, battled John Dawson, of Chicago, George Voigt of New York, played Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland, Ore., and Harrison R. Johnston of St. Paul struggled with Phillips Finlay, Boston.

Braeburn Country Club, Newton, Mass., Sept. 13.—The downfall of five former United States title holders and a close call for the king himself, Bobby Jones, furnished a succession of upsets and thrills in the opening rounds of match play of the amateur golf championship yesterday.

With his crown hanging in the balance, Jones staged a desperate uphill fight in his second match to outlast Ray Gorton, the home club veteran, and win by the margin of one up at the nineteenth hole after he had easily disposed of the New Jersey champion, J. Wolcott Brown, by a score of four and three in the morning round.

This victory for Jones, the first extra hole match he has ever played in the title tournament, brought to a spectacular climax a day that saw the defeat of the man regarded as his most dangerous rival, George Von Elm of Detroit, the only man who has beaten Bobby in the last four years of championship play.

VON ELM LOSSES
Von Elm, eliminated in the first match of the day by Arthur W. Yates of Rochester, N.Y., by three and two faded out of the title picture, along with four other ex-champions—Francis Ouimet, Max Marston, Jess Sweetser and Chick Evans—and the amateur champion of Canada, C. Ross Somerville.

A drizzling rain most of the day beat on the shattered hopes of these golfing giants as the field of thirty-two that started in the morning, was abruptly cut down to a select group of eight.

This array is composed of six Americans, led by Jones, and two British contenders, led by their own champion, T. P. Perkins. The survivors in the order in which they started this morning follow:

Upper half—Phil Perkins, Great Britain, vs. John Dawson, Chicago; Dr. Oscar F. Willing, Portland, Oregon, vs. George Voigt, New York.
Lower half—Phillip Finlay, Boston, vs. Jimmy Johnston, St. Paul; John B. Beck, Great Britain, vs. Robert T. Jones Jr., Atlanta, Ga.

JONES' COMEBACK
Only a brilliant comeback by Jones after one of the worst outward nines holes he has ever had in his tournament play, saved the three times American champion from suffering the same fate that befell the other favorites. Only the fact that the home club star himself was going poorly kept him from running up an overwhelming lead at a time when the champion was so badly off his game.

Jones, though forty-two at the turn, seven over par, actually managed to square the match on the eighth and ninth, but there were fireworks from then on as both Bobby and his rival beat par on the inward nine.

They raced along to the final green, alternately in and out, until the last hole. While gallery looked on in the rain, Gorton saved himself on the eighteenth in dramatic fashion, holing an eight-foot par shot on a green that was as green as the grass.

This effort was wasted, however, when he sliced a tee shot on the extra hole into the rough and lost the match.

SOFT GOING AT COLWOOD BRINGS OUTSIDERS HOME

After Two-day Run of Favorites, Several Good Prices Are Posted

Conroy Pays Top Price, Winning First; Montello Wins Feature Handicap

With a slow track and cloudy weather which ended in rain, the racing at Colwood yesterday provided plenty of thrills for the fans and no less than six double-figure prices were posted. Favorites found the going hard and on only one occasion, in the sixth, when Jessie Lee found the right hole, got to the wire first. First choices were only out of the money twice, however. Starting off the day in lively fashion, Conroy, a 22 to 1 shot, topped off the first after a thrilling stretch drive and returned his nose backers $46.80, the lowest price of the day. Conroy, by fourth for the whole distance until rounding the stretch turn when, under a hard ride he closed the small gap separating him from the leaders and won with a length to spare when Felicous tired. Miss Jennings was second, paying $12.15 place and Felicous was third.

YORK BELLE BEATEN

Probably the biggest upset of the day was the defeat of York Belle by Bee Somers in the third race. The winner paid her $2 nose backers $44.95. Bee Somers went out from the barrier with a lightning rush and opened up four lengths on the field. York Belle, an odds on favorite, ran her usual slow start and then commenced to overhaul the leaders but her bid was made too late and she lost by a length and a half. Louvain closed with a fast rush to take the show. Homopie, the second favorite, was never a contender for the lead.

FINE SPEED

Montello, showing marvelous speed went out on top with Somers. Her second choice, and raced the latter into submission, then coming on to win with ease after going wide in the stretch. Forebec, carrying top weight, ran a fine race for second, coming from a long way behind to get under the decision by a head from Golden Sweep.

FAVORITE WINS

Jessie Lee was the only favorite of the day to get first place, taking the sixth event with no trouble. Starting at a little better than even money, he went to the front after making the turn and was never headed. Lan Mar, the place horse returned $12.60 to his backers.

CLARIMONDE HOPE

In winning the second, paid only one double figure, returning $16.85 to win.

His Team is Not Yet Out of the Running

After the crushing defeat which the Philadelphia Athletics, guided by Connie Mack, suffered in the first three games of the now famous series in New York this week, it began to look as if the Yankees were only fooling and had been more or less laying down on the job during the last few weeks or so when they let a big margin dwindle to nothing. Nevertheless, with the aid of Max Bishop's ninth-inning home run yesterday, the Mackmen secured a well-deserved victory and they are now a game and a half behind the leaders. The question whether Connie Mack can beat the New York clan in the race down the stretch is yet an open one and may be decided within the next few days.

Fourth Game of Vital Quartette Goes to Mackmen When Max Bishop Knocks Home Run in Ninth and Breaks Tie; Yanks Lead Out to Game and a Half; St. Louis Increases Advantage in National by Winning While Giants and Cubs Idle

New York, Sept. 13.—Thanks to Max Bishop, the Philadelphia Athletics have been saved from utter rout in the now-famous Battle of the Bronx.

After smashing the A's into defeat in the first three skirmishes of the crucial general engagement, Miller Huggins's Yankee brigade ran afoul of Bishop's ninth-inning home run in the fourth game yesterday. The dramatic blow carried with it a four-to-three victory for the Mackmen and enabled them to beat a dignified if somewhat hasty retreat from the Yank stadium.

The Yanks thus saw their American League lead clipped to a game and a half, a margin that the A's hope will prove not impossible to overcome when the two clubs invade the West on Saturday. A crowd of 40,500 saw the end of the series, swelling the total attendance for the four games to 177,300.

While the New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs were idle the St. Louis Cardinals increased their National League lead to three games by defeating Cincinnati 3-1 in the last home game of the season at St. Louis.

In the only other National League game of the day, Brooklyn beat the Phillies 6 to 1. William Clark, Dodger southpaw, scored his second victory over the Phillies in three days, giving them only five hits. The Dodgers hit three Philly pitchers for seventeen hits, four of them going to Babe Herman.

Jack Crawford Still In Running For U.S. Tennis Championship

Australian Defeats Johnny Van Ryn, of United States, and Is Now Only Empire Representative Left in Contest at Forest Hills; Borotra and Two Other Frenchmen Are Eliminated; Francis T. Hunter Plays Marvellous Game in Downing Borotra

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 13.—United States stars rose in their might yesterday and defeated the formidable French contenders for the United States national single championship in three out of five great battles.

Of the five Frenchmen who started play in the third round, only two advanced to the quarter finals, Henri Cochet, the favorite for the championship, and another famous internationalist, Jacques Brugnon. Jean Borotra, third of this noted triumvirate, fell by the wayside along with the "tennis kids" of the tri-color, Christian Bousset and Rene de Buzet.

ONE VICTORIAN STILL IN GOLF AT JASPER PARK

Vic Gravin Advances to Quarter Finals; J. Leslie Bell Beaten

Jasper National Park, Alta., Sept. 13.—One upset, the defeat of J. Leslie Bell of Calgary, featured the first round of the championship flight of the Jasper Park Lodge Silver Totem Pole Trophy tournament yesterday. Bell, who was a semi-finalist in the tournament last year and who was considered a strong possibility in the present tournament, went down to defeat 2 and 1 to K. C. Allen of Winnipeg.

Four Vancouver players, two from Edmonton, one from Winnipeg, and one from Victoria are left in the championship flight. Harry Jones of Vancouver, former winner of the trophy, disposed of S. P. Powell of Vancouver, 4 and 3, while Monty Hill, B. Symes and A. Bull won through to the second round in fairly easy fashion. M. H. Stewart of Edmonton and A. L. Code of Victoria are the latter winners of the handicap match against par, fought a keen game, Stewart sinking a long putt on the eighteenth to win 1 up. J. B. Starkey of Edmonton won handsily from S. H. Small of Vancouver. Starkey was 8 up at the turn and shot a brand of golf that established him as one of the leading favorites for the final.

In the women's championship event Mrs. L. M. Deither of Vancouver sprung a big surprise by carrying Miss Maud Macleod, runner-up in the Ontario championship and winner of the qualifying round, to the eighteenth green before she succumbed 1 down. Miss Ethel Egbert of Edmonton, daughter of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, played a strong game against Mrs. R. P. Baker of Vancouver, but could not quite meet the accurate mauling play of her opponent and lost 3 and 2.

Results in the championship events were as follows:
Championship flight, Silver Totem Pole Trophy: Monty Hill, Vancouver, won from N. C. Byers, Saskatoon, 5 and 4.
K. C. Allen, Winnipeg, won from J. Leslie Bell, Calgary, 2 and 1.

In the playoff to break the tie for the medal offered for the lowest qualifying score, Monty Hill of Vancouver turned in a card four strokes better than that of Harry Jones.

FRASER MILLS ARE WINNERS IN FINE GAME
Vancouver, Sept. 13.—Douglas Muscutt, slender moundsman of the champion Fraser Mills club, hurled his way into baseball "Hall of Fame" at Athletic Park Wednesday night, when he turned back the fast Rossland nine without a hit in seven innings. Muscutt mowed down the opposition in snappy style. In only two frames, the first and second, did more than three batters step up to the plate, and in each of these two, only four men swung into baseball "Hall of Fame" at Athletic Park Wednesday night, when he turned back the fast Rossland nine without a hit in seven innings. TELLS OF MOTOR
TRIP TO EAST BY YOUNG MARKSMEN

Major W. J. Wilby Gives Rotary Club Review of Long Journey

Adventures during a motor tour to Ottawa by youthful marksmen of the 14th Cadet Corps of the Victoria High School were described to the Victoria Rotary Club to-day by Major W. J. Wilby.

The party traveled in an old, small car, part of the distance being driven through the United States, where they were cordially welcomed, despite the army of rifles and pistols taken.

Friendly greetings were often followed by challenges to impromptu shooting matches. Interested communities producing contestants eager to show their skill against the lads at wayside stops.

Road conditions were generally good, though long stretches of rutty highway were met in Montana and the Western cattle country. Tourist camps were comfortable as a rule, though in places accommodation offered had been pre-empted by hens or farm animals.

The ancient car bore down in the middle of the busiest street of Detroit and attracted much attention. At Kingston, Ont., the national monuments were of great interest, particularly the Magellon towers surviving from ancient fortifications.

At Ottawa the lads held their own, their marksmanship attracting much attention.

The highway of British Columbia was found superior to those of the prairie provinces.

Major Wilby pointed out that the tour had been arranged as an educational feature and forecast that it would be repeated in coming years.

Edith Knapp, talented harpist playing at the Capitol Theatre, was presented by Clifford Deane and entertained with a group of selections which aroused delighted applause.

Thanks For the Rain

The farmers all are happy now, there has been no more drought. Abundant yield of oats and hay. And horses feed three times a day. Provisions now are down in the market. I hope you all agree. With plenty of work for all of us. Like the days of 1903.

The chap that wrote this did his best. He is going home now to take a rest. The pure, soft water that money can't buy. You'll find him under the door. The horse, tired and weary. In turned out to grass until he gets cheery.

Now I will close this little rhyme. Thanks for the rain, it came on time. The pure, soft water that money can't buy. Poured forth from the Mighty 'way up on high.

Our fears and doubts no more remain. For with God's goodness comes our rain. D. GUTHRIE.

ACCUSED FACES
SERIOUS CHARGE

Knife Affray on Ss. Adelaide Is Before the Court

Describing how the purchase of a steamship ticket from Seattle to Vancouver via Victoria on the Ss. Adelaide brought him the greatest thrill of his life, Rex Fletcher, 7014 Murray Street, Seattle, told the stand as a witness for the prosecution at the continuation of the preliminary hearing in the City of Rex versus Fletcher in the City Police Court this morning.

Mr. Edmond told of how he had crossed on the Adelaide from Victoria to Vancouver at night on a steamer with holiday trippers and with all state rooms full. To find a place to sleep he had entered the smoking room. His attention had been momentarily attracted by a group on the floor, "shooting dice." A young white boy was playing opposite a negro, and appeared to be losing.

Presently, continued Mr. Edmonds, there had been word from the two, "Shake 'em fair," the white boy had admonished, and had later been chased out of the smoking room on to the deck by the negro. The witness watched the game for a while after it had resumed, and then saw the white boy return to the room, to be pursued again to the deck.

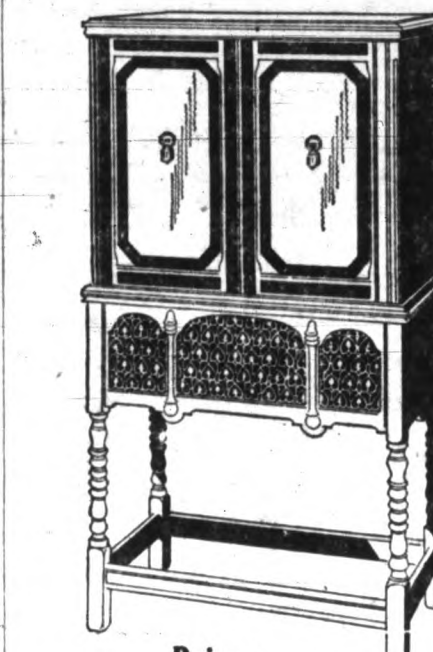

Fletcher followed, and the boy was brought back bleeding from several places at once. He had seen several of the crowd, chest, arms and abdomen of the boy, when the latter had been carried in by friends. Then witness left, as there was nothing he could do about it.

Under cross-examination witness admitted he had not witnessed the tussle on the deck so as to be able to distinguish who had been the aggressor. He saw the result, he said. After further evidence the case was stood over until Friday at 10 a.m.

Freeman Frederick Fletcher, the accused, is charged on remand with attempted murder, following the finding of William Canning in a bleeding condition on the deck of the Adelaide on August 26 last. Stuart Hewson appears for the defence, and C. L. Harrison for the prosecution.

WILL APPEAL
POWER RULING

Grand Forks May Carry Point at Issue Before Lands Minister

With judgment reserved by Mr. Justice Murphy on the application for an injunction to prevent the West Kootenay Power and Light Company from taking any action to endanger the power supply of the City of Grand Forks and of the Granby Mining and Smelting Company at Allenby, the next move indicated is an appeal to the Minister of Lands.

The interim injunction previously granted by the courts has been continued from day to day until judgment is given on the court application.

The board's ruling that it had no jurisdiction on the application for a rate tariff or over the supply of power to the districts appealing leaves the matter hanging in the air. F. A. McNamee, for the City of Grand Forks, has notified the water board that he contemplates appealing the decision to the Lands Minister, who has power to review the whole situation going outside the records of the hearing. The Granby company, it was expected, would seek a mandamus from the courts compelling the board to act on the application, but it is thought they now may join with Grand Forks in presenting the appeal to the Minister of Lands.

GREAT FORWARD
MOVE IN CHURCH

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—A recommendation that the United Church of Canada undertake a great forward movement of evangelism during the next two years was adopted by the General Council of the church, in session here last night. The recommendation was presented by Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon, former Moderator, who declared he never before had noted such a quickening in a people's sense of religion as at the present time. Minds were turning from theology to religion.

He urged the first year be spent on the central truths of Christianity and the second in a study of Jesus. He chose that order because the nineteenth century of Jesus would be observed at Easter, 1930. He then would follow the message of Pentecost.

Calcutta Luck

A Thrilling Story of Fate and the Famous Sweepstake

By E. C. BULEY

But Joan spent a minute or two in considering her best course with the newspaperman, before instructing her secretary to show him in. There must be some way, she supposed, of keeping her name out of print, even if Linda were correct in assuming that her good fortune was the cause of this unexpected and unwelcome visit. Perhaps, if she were very nice to the man...

The representative of The Evening Budget proved to be a very good-looking and smartly dressed young man, with an ingratiating smile which raised Joan's hopes of an avoidance of undesirable publicity.

"Miss Kennett," he said, "I am hardly sure whether I ought to congratulate you upon a piece of wonderful good fortune, or sympathize with you on a tantalizing bit of hard luck. It all depends, doesn't it?"

"Are you referring to the Calcutta sweep?" Joan asked. "And if so, would you mind telling me how you came to connect me with it?"

The young man's business card bore the name of Kennedy—smiled, as he took the chair to which Joan pointed.

"The news that you had drawn Parachute came into the office some time ago," Miss Kennett said. "Nothing to do with me, of course, but you could hardly expect to keep such a thing quiet, could you now?"

"But I wanted to keep it quiet," Miss Kennett said. "I want to keep it quiet now, and for the very best of reasons."

"Of course, they all do," he said. "Every year the same thing happens, you see. The lucky prize-winners are simply flooded with letters from all sorts of people: charlatans, cranks, busybodies by the thousand. But one must expect to pay some price for an astounding piece of good fortune, eh?"

"I suppose so," Joan said ruefully. "May I ask what is your business with me?"

"Asking impertinent questions," Kennedy said promptly. "I want to know as much about you as you feel inclined to tell. I see you are the head of the firm; that's something to be going on with. Business woman draws Derby favorite in the Calcutta, and so on. Parisian importing firm, I understand."

"But what possible interest?" "Oh, come, Miss Kennett; you must be aware that anybody as young as yourself, running her own business and so on, is worth a little story, sweep or no sweep. Did you start the business yourself?"

Joan found herself telling Mr. Kennedy about her early struggles, her instinct for publicity for the moment overcoming her decided objection to being interviewed on the subject of her good fortune. But the objection reared its head again, as soon as Mr. Kennedy approached that angle of his interview.

"You've heard, I suppose, that there's some doubt about Parachute starting?" he said. "I am sorry to say that I have a bit of inside information on that point. I'm afraid you'll not get a run for your money after all, Miss Kennett."

"Then why write anything about it?" Joan said. "I'm quite resigned to Parachute not starting in the Derby. I've seen—that is to say, I have special reason for knowing that the death of this man Franklin was actually reported in the African newspapers."

To her surprise, Mr. Kennedy seemed quite crestfallen at this piece of information.

"How on earth did you hear of that?" he asked blankly. "Only four people in London are supposed to know it, and they are all in my profession. It came to me in confidence; it is not to be printed, even until inquiries have been made in East Africa. How did it come to your ears?"

"That hardly matters, does it?" Joan asked. "The point is that I am likely to be subjected to a lot of annoyance and publicity, with none of the compensations at which you hinted. So couldn't you possibly leave my name out of it entirely? If the horse would be printed just the same, but as matters stand..."

"As matters stand, you are in for the publicity, Miss Kennett," Kennedy said. "Don't blame me. If I were to go back to my office and say you refused to discuss the matter, the news would be printed just the same. You must make up your mind to that, and take it philosophically. Besides, it is by no means so certain that Parachute will be prevented from running. I've been looking up the record of this chap, Franklin, and I should not be in a hurry to assume his death to be true just because it was reported in some newspaper in Africa."

"I do not follow you. Why should they say he was dead, if he is still alive?"

"He had good reason for wanting people to think him dead, maybe," Kennedy suggested. "Anyhow, the people behind Parachute declare that they will insist upon running the colt, unless actual proof of Franklin's death is brought forward. And how that is to be done in the time, is beyond me."

"You have seen these people, then?" Joan asked cautiously.

"Only the wife," Kennedy replied, carelessly. "She refuses to credit Franklin's death; naturally enough."

"The wife?" Joan repeated. "The widow, as the case may be," Kennedy said coolly. "But she declines to sport widow's weeds on the evidence available."

"You mean," Joan said, slowly, "that this man Franklin... he was a married man?"

"Exactly," Kennedy agreed. "That was why I said that he had some justification for wishing his friends in England to think he was dead. Five minutes with Mrs. Franklin was enough to show me what would be my choice, if I were Franklin. 'If a mock death didn't cope with the situation, I think I should indulge myself in the real article.'"

Joan managed a feeble and mechanical smile for this pleasant; her one desire was now to get rid of Mr. Kennedy, without further delay. She wanted to be alone, and to reflect upon the incredible duplicity of John Blake—no, of Allen Franklin, a name which fitted him much better.

"I'm afraid I'm going to be very busy, Mr. Kennedy," she said. "Is there anything else you wish to know?"

"She heard herself saying that she had been approached to sell part of her interest in Parachute, and that she had decided in the circumstances, to retain the whole chance herself."

"I'm sure the horse will not run," she said stoutly. "And I am just as sure that it will not win, if by any chance it is permitted to run. So please say, if you must print an interview with me, that my business occupies my whole attention, and that I expect nothing at all to come from drawing this horse in the Calcutta."

At that Mr. Kennedy retired, apparently well content. Joan plunged angrily into her correspondence.

"If a Mr. Blake rings up, Linda, or tries to see me," she said, "kindly inform him that I wish to hear nothing from him, and that any attempt to see me will be quite useless."

"Yes, Miss Kennett."

"A man I have caught out in an attempt to gross deception," Joan explained. "In short, Linda, just a man."

GORDON'S PLAN

Mr. Angus Gordon paid an early visit to his friend and associate, Norman Wareing, not at Wareing's office, but at his flat near Piccadilly.

"I say, old fruit," was his greeting. "That chap Blake certainly handed you a beauty. You've done your best. No change in the bet, but it will be no use trying to hide that bruise for three or four days to come."

"Did you come here to tell me what I know only too well?" Wareing snarled. "What until my turn comes, that's all. He'll get something that will show for the rest of his life."

"You'll employ a deputy avenger, I assume," Gordon said. "Blake's a hefty bird. Wareing. I ran my eye over him last night."

"You found him then?" Wareing said eagerly. "Do you notice that he has kept what he knows to himself? No change in the bet, and nothing about Blake in the news columns."

"And yet, judging by the company he was keeping last night," Gordon said softly, "I do not think he has kept his news entirely to himself."

"What compa?" snapped Wareing. "He took me to dinner at the Orange Ice Mountain, where Uncle Wiggly had built his hollow stump bungalow."

"It's almost like Summer still," said Nurse Jane Puzzy Wuzzy, as Mr. White wash, the Polar Bear gentleman, brought in a big cake of frozen water from his iced cave.

"Yes, but it's good for the ice business," said Nurse Jane, as she slipped off a little broken chunk to cool some milk for Baby Bunty. "But I hope we soon have Fall weather."

"It will come soon enough," growled the Polar Bear gentleman. He did not growl because he was angry on account of having to carry heavy cakes of ice, but growling was his way of speech.

"Well, it's good your ice cave is so near us," said Nurse Jane, as she slipped off a little broken chunk to cool some milk for Baby Bunty. "But I hope we soon have Fall weather."

"I might even stop at the Hollow Stump School to see if everything is ready for the opening of classes next week," thought Mr. Longears. But when he found how hot the September day was he sat in the coolest part of his garden, sitting on a toadstool, with a larger one over him for an umbrella and he thought about the North Pole and the igloos or snow houses the Eskimo boys and girls live in during winter.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggly was sitting in the shade trying to keep cool, he heard voices whispering on the other side of a bunch of thick weeds. The voices were those of Jackie and Peetle Bow Wow.

"It will be fun to do it!" barked Jackie. "Lots of fun!" whined Peetle. "Come on, the two little puppy dog boys trotted off and Uncle Wiggly said to himself:

"Now, I wonder what mischief they are going to do? Perhaps I'd better go look. But it was so hot at the end of the garden, sitting on a toadstool with another one over his head like an umbrella, that Mr. Longears stayed where he was."

Pretty soon, however, there was another sound back of the clump of tall, green weeds and a voice chirped:

"And so long and black, too!" exclaimed another voice. "I'm afraid."

"If we could only find Uncle Wiggly to tell him he might something about it!" said the first voice.

With that the rabbit gentleman, who had been dosing off until he was almost asleep, sat up and called:

"Who are you and what's the matter?"

"We are Mr. and Mrs. Robin," was the answer, "and much is the matter. There's a big black snake coiled here on the patch and we're afraid he is trying to either catch you or us."

"Dear me! A big black snake in my garden!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "That must never be. He may catch your little robins."

"He can't catch our little birds, for they have been flying away, said Mrs. Robin. "And as we can fly high the

Though it was September the weather was still hot in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountain, where Uncle Wiggly had built his hollow stump bungalow.

"It's almost like Summer still," said Nurse Jane Puzzy Wuzzy, as Mr. White wash, the Polar Bear gentleman, brought in a big cake of frozen water from his iced cave.

"Yes, but it's good for the ice business," said Nurse Jane, as she slipped off a little broken chunk to cool some milk for Baby Bunty. "But I hope we soon have Fall weather."

"Dear me! A big black snake in my garden!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "That must never be. He may catch your little robins."

"He can't catch our little birds, for they have been flying away, said Mrs. Robin. "And as we can fly high the snake can't catch us. But he may catch you, Uncle Wiggly, so you had better come here and throw stones at the snake and drive him away."

"I will," said the bunny. Hopping off the toadstool, he hurried to where Mr. and Mrs. Robin, perched in a tree, were looking at something long and black coiled in the grass. "Get away from here, if you please, Mr. Black Snake!" cried Uncle Wiggly.

He threw a stone at the black thing. The rock hit it, bounced off and struck Mr. Longears on the nose.

"Oh, what a funny snake!" cried Mr. Robin. "Ha! Ha!" laughed some voices in the bushes. "That isn't a snake. It's just the black rubber hose and we're going to make a shower bath with it!" Then Jackie and Peetle Bow Wow, with their bathing suits on, scurried off to the bushes and turned on the water. And when it splashed out of the hose nozzle the puppies got under the shower and cooled off.

"Laughed Uncle Wiggly. 'I'll get my bathing suit, too. We'll all have a shower bath!'"

Soon the bunny and the puppies were splashing away and the cool drops, laughing to think how they had thought the long rubber hose was a black snake. So it all came out right, and if the policeman's sidewalk scooter can beat the firemen's roller skate in a race I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's little ship.

NANCY PAGE

THE MYSTERY OF THIS CAKE LIES IN ITS GOODNESS

By Florence La Gankle

In looking over her recipe files Nancy came across a mystery cake recipe. It looked so good that she decided to try the recipe. She was delighted with results. Immediately she passed on the recipe to the members of the Nancy Page club. Here it is as she gave it:

Use the standard measuring cup holding 1/2 pint. Measure level. 1/2 cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups sugar, grated rind of orange, 1 egg and 1/2 yolk extra, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 table-spoons baking powder, 1 cup milk, 1 1/2 squares or ounces baking or bitter chocolate. Cream shortening, add sugar and orange rind. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift flour, salt, baking powder. Add alternately with milk to sugar, butter and egg mixture. Fold in beaten egg white. Divide cake batter into two parts and lightly flour three layer cake pans. Put a spoonful of white and then of stir chocolate into one-half. Grease dark batter into pans.

Bake. For filling use 3 tablespoons melted butter, 3 cups confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons orange juice, grated rind and pulp of 1 orange, 1 egg white and 2 squares unsweetened chocolate. Chocolate shot may be used also. Beat first four ingredients together, fold in beaten egg white. Take out two-thirds and add melted chocolate. Spread this between layers and on sides. Use white icing on top, sprinkle it with chocolate shot or grated chocolate.

REFINISHING FURNITURE

Perhaps you have a piece of valued furniture the varnished surface of which has become scratched or unsightly. If the grain is truly beautiful, it would be a mistake to cover it with paint or even too dark a stain. In most cases oil or wax will give a satisfactory finish. Prepared varnish-remover will loosen the old varnish which is then wiped off easily with a cloth.

By MCA, through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

If you use a scraper always scrape with the grain, pushing the scraper before you as shown above. A piece of glass also will serve the purpose.

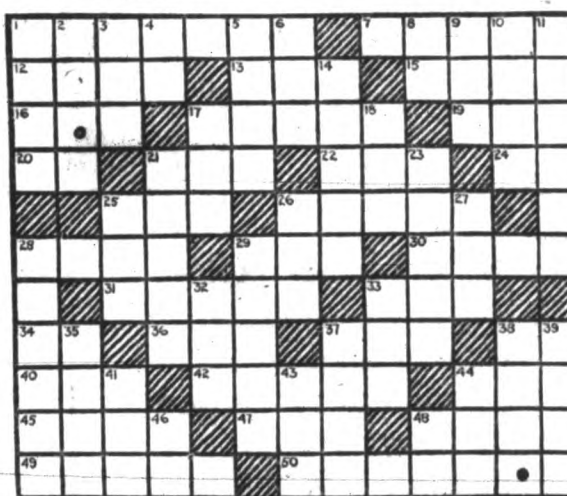

Ammonia is an excellent varnish-remover, too. Be careful not to allow the ammonia to remain too long on the wood, as it may stain it.

Finish the surface with sandpaper. Then take raw or unboiled linseed oil, thinned out with about one-third part of benzine. Let stand for several hours, even over night, until the desired body of finish is obtained. Wipe then with a soft rag, removing all oil. Polish with felt, and apply wax. Rub the wax hard until the furniture is smooth and glossy.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1928

Contrary and conflicting planetary influences are strong to-day, according to astrology, which reads in the horoscope much of promise despite adverse aspects. In the morning routine work should be pursued. It is a time for taking account of one's weaknesses and for stressing one's good points. It is a day when those in authority should be avoided rather than courted, a time for wise procedure.

Under this rule there may be serious dissensions regarding policies of plans. It is a time when family discussions may become unpleasant. During the breakfast hour, all perilous subjects such as finances should be avoided. Banks and bankers may now come much into the limelight, because of political policies that awaken public interest, astrologers foretell. The stars smile in all places of amusement to-day and theatres are likely to benefit greatly. New plays are to be better than the dramas of recent years. Even though this is Friday it should be a lucky wedding day, provided the ceremony is performed after the noon hour.

There is a sign foretelling good luck for newspapers and all connected with them. Profit through a sensational scandal reaching overseas is indicated. Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly self-reliant and independent. These subjects of Virgo are naturally materialistic in their aims, but they usually have tremendous spiritual power when it is brought out. Persons whose birthdate it is should be exceedingly careful of their financial resources in the coming year which is to bring them money and with it the temptation to go extravagant. (Copyright, 1928)

AT THE THEATRES

Capitol Screens "The Water Hole" With Vaudeville

Scenes for the Paramount production of Zane Grey's story, "The Water Hole," which the Capitol Theatre will feature for three days, starting to-day, were actually filmed in Arizona, the locale of the story. Jack Holt plays the leading role in this drama of society life in the cities and primitive life in the desert.

The story, "The Water Hole," first appeared in Collier's Weekly, where it had a wide reading, and Zane Grey expanded it into a novel. The tale is unusual for Zane Grey, because its western scenes are only incidental to the main theme of the story.

Paramount has made this story into one of the big specials of the year, measuring it with the former successful Zane Grey production, "Wanderer of the Westland." The filming was done partly in technicolor and beautiful vistas of the gorgeous Arizona western region are included in the film.

The stage attractions for the balance of this week will offer an entirely new special, specialties, and include such artists as: Cameron and Cameron, Scottish comedians; Doby and Lou, clever harmony comedy singers; Edith Knapp, star harp soloist of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra; Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C., and the concert orchestra.

Dominion Offers Victor McLaglen In "The River Pirate"

Even the tattoo experts have crashed into the picture.

In "The River Pirate," Fox Film's production directed by William K. Howard, the leading role is played by Victor McLaglen, as "Sailor Frank," a hard-boiled son of the sea, who goes wrong, lands in a reformatory, and when he is released becomes a river pirate, with pal to whom he became attached while both were behind the bars.

McLaglen's character called for twelve different designs, ships, hearts, and the like, to be tattooed on him and while Howard did not go so far as to ask for real tattooing, he did insist on a real tattooer, so lower Main Street in Los Angeles, where the sailors from the fleets visit, was called on to furnish his best.

Thus, "Sailor Harvey," who modestly claims the distinction of the "world's best tattoo expert," received the assignment, and for three weeks he put on the tattoos in the morning and took them off at night, repeating the process each day.

The job proved so much to his liking that when it was done "Sailor Harvey" sold his shop and now has joined the throng of fame-seekers at the gates of Hollywood studios.

"The River Pirate" is Fox Film's screen version of the sensational Saturday Evening Post story by Charles Francis Coe and is starting at Dominion to-day and showing for three days.

Ken Maynard At Columbia Theatre In Western Picture
Ken Maynard, western star, whose latest picture, "The Long Gospel," is now playing at the Columbia Theatre, is an authority on the famous gun-toters of the West. He has just compiled a series of articles on this interesting subject and plans to publish them soon.

Maynard, who has always been interested in the West and its early struggles, made a study of its famous characters. In his collection of firearms he has some owned by renowned fighters whose names are written on the pages of California and Texas history. Maynard himself is an expert shot and was schooled by Sinclair "One Shot" Allison of Texas. Allison in his later years connected with one of the big-top circuses and became a close friend of Ken.

Madge Bellamy Has Dramatic Role at Variety

When Madge Kennedy was called upon to take the role of an interviewer in Al Lichtman's production, "Oh, Baby!" she was able to apply the observations she has made while earning the title of "the most interviewed girl in the world." For throughout successive seasons on both stage and screen Miss Kennedy has talked with every well known writer whose business it is to report on the personalities of those in the acting profession.

"Oh, Baby!" the Universal-Jewel production is now at the Playhouse Theatre.

MADGE KENNEDY PLAYING LEAD AT PLAYHOUSE

"Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," a Fox Film's feature production starring Madge Bellamy, is now being shown at the Variety.
This is an Irving Cummings production, based upon the dramatic stage play by Theodore Kremer. It is a modern version, with virtually all action laid in New York City and vicinity, and it offers some of the most magnificent Metropolitan shots ever brought to the silver sheet.
Allan Simpson is cast as Roy Davis in the leading masculine role.
Paul Nicholson, remembered for his stellar work in "The Johnsons," is seen as the "menace" in this latest Cummings offering.
Others in the strong supporting cast are Sally Phillips, Anita Garvin, J. Farrell MacDonald, Ethel Wales, Harry Bailey and Arthur Housman.

JAXON PLAYERS FINE COMPANY

Able Group of Six Open Indefinite Engagement at the Coliseum Theatre

Returning to Victoria after an absence of seven years, Lee Jaxon, well known to Victorians for his acting with the Mildred Page Players at the Playhouse Theatre here in 1920 and 1921, has returned to the city with his own company and is now playing an indefinite engagement at the Coliseum Theatre. During his seven years' absence from Victoria Mr. Jaxon has appeared in most of the cities of the United States from New York to Los Angeles and has recently terminated a two-year engagement in Seattle. He has secured some of the best talent on the Pacific Coast for the shows which he intends to put on in Victoria, and his company of six has already become popular with the large audiences who have enjoyed the present offering for three nights this week.

In presenting to his Victoria patrons this week the well-known comedy skit, "Jerry's Honeymoon," each of the players has scored an instantaneous success, with capacity houses. The entire production, which runs one hour and twenty minutes, is full of good, clean humor and plenty of hearty laughter.

STOP FLOODING AT METCHOSIN

Plans for improvements in the Metchoshin district have been placed before the Government and there is every indication that they will receive immediate attention. Hon. R. H. Foster, Attorney-General, said at the opening of the Metchoshin District Agricultural Fair at Luxton yesterday afternoon.

Work would soon be started, he expected, on clearing out the course of Metchoshin Creek, now blocked at times so that water crosses the road and covers thousands of acres. An appropriation has been made for this purpose and the creek bottom would be lowered to prevent further flooding.

He congratulated the residents on the excellent class of the products on show.
